March for Life Pilgrimage - Code of Conduct

I acknowledge that this pilgrimage is offered as a way to be an active member of the pro-life movement and offered up for all the souls who'll never have the chance to march for life. I know that those responsible for this trip have a duty to protect the experience, me and my peers and that anything that gets in the way of focusing on Him would be a problem and require attention.

Rules:

Drugs, alcohol, tobacco, weapons or any other inappropriate items are not permitted. Luggage may be searched and any illegal substances or items found will be grounds for immediate dismissal.

Teens are not to step foot into the rooms of the opposite gender. There are common areas to spend time. Sleeping areas are not to be a co-ed meeting space.

Teens must remain in our designated area unless accompanied by adults.

Cell phones are permitted, but should be used sparingly as to not be a distraction. Cell phone may be confiscated if not used appropriately.

Clothing and behavior should be modest and in good taste. This is a casual trip and you should be comfy, but leggings are not pants and crude t-shirts should be left at home. Be comfy and classy!

Disrespectful attitudes and behavior are a disservice to the pilgrimage experience and will not be tolerated. Foul language and public or private displays of affection are not appropriate.

Sneaking out, leaving the group, ignoring directions or violating general rules of safety threaten the experience of everyone involved and would be grounds for immediate dismissal from MFL.

Although upperclassmen can be good leaders on this trip, they are not adults and not permitted unfettered decisions. Campus ministers are responsible for everyone's safety and will make the decisions in regards to the schedule and trip guidelines.

Expectations:

As a teen on MFL, I will be a reflection of Jesus. I will be respectful of others' thoughts, feelings, experiences, belongings and bodies. I will be cautious in action, careful in speech and protective of the facilities we use. I will dress appropriately and use appropriate language at all times. I will follow all directions, not just rules on this page, but those given over the trip and general safety guidelines. I will be on-time and where I'm supposed to be and doing what I'm supposed to be doing. If I see that others are not, I will encourage them to do the right thing and/or tell an adult.

As Parents, I understand that violating this code of conduct may result in my child being dismissed from the trip and I would be responsible for retrieving them at my own expense.
